

THE BOTANIC GARDENER - Call for Articles

December 2019

Deadline: 1 November

We encourage you to support and enhance your profession by contributing to the on-line BGANZ magazine, THE BOTANIC GARDENER.

The December 2019 issue is themed: Plants from the past: plants for the future.

THE BOTANIC GARDENER seeks:

- articles that 'pollinating great ideas'
- feature articles on the theme -
- a book review relevant to members
- and any news items
- Is your Garden having a significant milestone, from 5 years to 250! The BOTANIC GARDENER magazine is a great way to celebrate your milestones. We'd love to hear from you.

We'd love to hear from our Botanic Gardens community:

- What plants from the past have you worked with? What works best, and what hasn't worked?
- Does your organisation have plan for future plants, planting?
- What have you learnt from other sources about plants for the future?
- How has Social Media changed your interaction with the public, inside and beyond the Garden gate when engaging about plants for the future?
- What makes your garden outstanding in the field?
- Do you have time to effectively to plant for the plantings of the future at your garden? If not, how do you prioritise and what is most effective for your garden?

Share your innovations, aspirations, and opportunities with your colleagues.

Please include: secretariat@bganz.org.au and our Managing Editor

Helen Vaughan managingeditor@bganz.org.au in your response ASAP if you wish to submit an article/news item.

News items range from 200 - 400 words and articles between 1000 - 2000 words.

Click here for guidelines for submitting articles and images and we look forward to hearing from you soon.